

Kyle Balingit
408-650-4431
Sunnyvale, California
kylebalingit@gmail.com

Professional Experience

Jan. 2020 – Current

Autopilot Engineer, Tesla, San Mateo, California

Uses in-house software to label maps and images for neural networks. Works with 3-D models to track objects using LiDAR data. Assesses quality output of workflows. Built and continuously maintains Excel team tracker. Undertakes special projects. Mentors teammates in multiple workflows. Tutors struggling analysts to meet daily quotas. Assisted as interim lead.

Oct. 2019 – Dec. 2019

Specialist, Apple, Los Gatos, California

Worked with customers to provide solutions for their technical needs. Created energy and excitement around Apple products. Maintained inventory.

Content Review Agent, Google, San Jose, California

Reviewed select content against policies and training. Consistently met team's daily targets. Tested incubation project for outsourcing.

May 2017 – July 2019

Content Specialist, Vudu, Sunnyvale, California

Set ad points in content for free on-demand service. Synchronized closed captions to video streams. Entered metadata into content in conjunction with studios. Quality controlled videos for proper encoding. Evaluated and rated unrated content according to TV rating standards. Assisted in digital preparation of next-day-air content. Trained new hires on various project workflows. Managed and assigned work to temporary contracting teams. Lead and managed special projects. Reported statistics of projects to management.

Oct. 2015 – Aug. 2017

Night Auditor, Towneplace Suites, Sunnyvale, California

Generated reports outlining room occupancy totals, daily transactions, revenue totals, and other figures for management review. Performed computer back-ups and reset systems. Worked as a front desk agent and resolved customer requests. Directed, shot, and edited video submission for company safety contest.

Education

Aug. 2010 – June 2015

Colorado Mesa University, Grand Junction, Colorado

B.A. in Mass Communications, with an emphasis in Media Strategies & Applications
Minor in English, with a concentration in Writing